Types of Artist

Fine Artist

With the right amount of self-belief, stamina and the ability to promote oneself, a career as a professional artist is perfectly possible. This can take the form of watercolour or oil painting, sculpting, textiles and tapestries, film and much more.

Photographer

Photographers use a range of equipment to capture permanent images in the style and brief set by their employer. Photographers can enter a wide range of sectors, including advertising, forensic, wildlife, photojournalism, fashion and more.

Illustrator

Can work in a variety of formats, including drawing, photography, or computer-aided design, creating anything from book covers to cartoons.

Animator

Can work on anything from stop-motion frames to visual effects in a film.

Graphic Designer

Responsible for creating design solutions that have a high visual impact, from magazine spreads to promotional banners and backdrops. Involves working to a design brief set by the client or creative director.

Scholarship Opportunities

"I have enjoyed the intensity of the learning and environment. I think that the materials available to me in my art classes are incredible. The teaching is always thorough and I have enjoyed the independence the college offers."
